

2^{il} O Awst / 2nd August 2019

ICO Blog: People care more about how their personal data is used. But what aspects cause them most concern?
One of the defining trends of the digital age has been a growing awareness of data protection rights. More people are becoming aware of the personal data that sits at the centre of so many of the online services we access, and realising their own rights with regard to that data.

ICO News: ICO selects first participants for data protection Sandbox
The Sandbox scheme is a new Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) service that will support organisations that are developing products and services that use personal data with a clear public benefit. Participants include Heathrow Airport and NHS Digital.

News Article: A data breach forced this family to move home and change their names
Whilst news on data breaches can be quite common, sometimes it is crucial that data does not land in the public domain for the safety of those involved.

News Article: Facebook: Did social network mislead MPs?
British MPs are taking Facebook to task over evidence appearing to contradict testimony the US tech company gave about the Cambridge Analytica scandal.

News Article: Lancaster Uni data breach hits at least 12,500 wannabe students
Lancaster University, which offers a GCHQ-accredited degree in security, has been struck by a "sophisticated and malicious phishing attack" that resulted in the leak of around 12,500 wannabe students' personal data.

ICO News: ICO fines boiler replacement company for thousands of nuisance calls made to TPS subscribers
A Clydebank-based boiler replacement firm made more than one million marketing calls with over 80% of those calls being made unlawfully to people registered with the Telephone Preference Service (TPS).

News Article: Capital One data breach: Arrest after details of 106m people stolen
The personal details of about 106 million individuals across the US and Canada were stolen in a hack targeting financial services firm Capital One.

Am rhagor o ddiweddaridau ynglyn â Diogelu data ewch i wefan Swyddfa Comisiynwdd Gwybodaeth. Cliciwch yma.

For updates on the ICO's Guide to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) [click here \[link\]](#).