

8^{fed} O Dachwedd / 8th November 2019

ICO News: Information Commissioner reminds political parties they must comply with the law ahead of General Election
The Information Commissioner, Elizabeth Denham has sent letters to political parties reminding them of their duty to comply with data protection legislation when political campaigning ahead of the General Election.

ICO News: Blog: Live facial recognition technology – police forces need to slow down and justify its use
Following their investigation into Live Facial Recognition, the ICO have issued their first Commissioner's Opinion on the use of live facial recognition technology by law enforcement in public places.

News Article: Facebook reveals privacy flaw in Groups
Following the Cambridge Analytic data scandal, Facebook restricted how much information app developers could gather. Despite this “roughly 100 partners” retained access which included people's names and photos. “At least” 11 developers had accessed the restricted information in the last 60 days, the company has revealed.

News Article: GDPR is missing the point, says Edward Snowden
The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is a “paper tiger that actually gives us a false sense of reassurance” NSA-whistle-blower Edward Snowden has stated.

News Article: Charity says sorry for giving rough sleepers' details to Home Office
Homeless charity St Mungo's have apologised after an internal review found that one of its 18 outreach teams continued to share information with the Home Office which was in contravention of St Mungo's own policy at the time.

Am rhagor o ddiweddaridau ynglyn â Diogelu data ewch i wefan Swyddfa Comisiynwdd Gwybodaeth. Cliciwch yma.

For updates on the ICO's Guide to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) [click here \[link\]](#).